Forecast For Southwest England
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 0400 on Saturday 21 Aug 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Heavy rain clearing to thundery downpours.

Today:
Heavy rain will clear from eastern counties through the morning, leaving behind sunny spells. However, heavy downpours will then develop, torrential and thundery in places. Feeling rather humid with light winds. Maximum temperature 22 deg C (72 deg F).

Tonight:
Any showers will quickly clear from eastern counties leaving sunny intervals for the evening. A dry night then follows with clear spells. Feeling muggy with light winds. Minimum temperature 14 deg C (57 deg F).

Sunday:
A much drier day on Sunday. There is still a low risk of a shower, mainly in the east. Otherwise, sunny spells are expected, particularly through the afternoon. Feeling warmer. Maximum temperature 22 deg C (72 deg F).

Outlook for Monday to Wednesday:
A dry and settled spell of weather to start next week with lengthy sunny spells. Feeling warm in the sunshine but this tempered by a strong breeze at times.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.